we extend the human body boundary and use it to define the space which also define by the transparent tube.

People inside are in the space within a space that create a sense of coated room that you can hide yourself in.

A series of movement of hiding into a small space define a series of boundary.
Render Simulation